Branch—Clarke.
A pretty home wedding took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the residence of George W. Clarke, when his daughter, Miss Julia Lee, became the bride of Harry Cornell Branch. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and crystal candelabra with pink candles, which shed a soft light on the friends who had assembled to witness the ceremony, performed by the Rev. H. H. Potts.

The bridal party entered the parlors to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, which was rendered by Miss Florence W. Dansey, while "O. Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" was softly played during the ceremony.

The ushers—Donald C. Hancock and Norvell W. Atkinson—entered first, followed by the bride and maid of honor, the groom and his best man, Ernest M. Butler, meeting them at the altar through a side entrance.

The bride was attired in a tailored gown of pearl gray chiffon cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried Bride roses.

Her only attendant, the maid of honor, Miss Edna Vail Branch, sister of the groom, was becomingly gowned in a cream lace robe over silk, with pink satin girdle and sash, and carried Killarney roses. A delightful reception was tendered the bridal party Monday evening from 9 to 11 in the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch left on the noon train, amidst showers of rice and hearty good wishes of friends, for New York, thence to Saratoga and Niagara.

Prompt Relief

I had suffered every month, for a year. My head and back would ache so bad I could not sit up. I tried all other kinds of medicines and they all failed to cure me. Then my mother told me to take CARDUI. When I had taken one bottle I was able to do all of my work.

MRS. DORA GARRETT,
Vandevort, Ark.

Works Like a Charm

For six years I was a sufferer. I had lost all hopes of ever being better, when I began to take CARDUI, the woman's tonic. Before I had taken one bottle I felt better, and in a week's time I was better than I had been in six years. CARDUI works like a charm.

Suffered Ten Years

I recommend CARDUI to all suffering ladies. My health was bad for ten long years. I had headache and blind, dizzy spells, weak and cold spells which went all over me. I took CARDUI, the woman's tonic, and got well and all right. I cannot find words with which to thank you.

Saved Her Life

While staying with me and going to school, my young sister was in terrible misery. I got her to take CARDUI and it helped her at once. I have taken CARDUI myself and believe I would have been under the clay, had it not been for that wonderful medicine.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1102 Hull Street.
It remains now for the signature of the Mayor only before the ordinance restricting and regulating the sale of liquor in the city becomes a law, as last night at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen the measure was passed unanimously. The meeting was devoid of sensationalism and practically without interest. No speeches were made either pro or con, and when the question was called it went through without a murmur.

According to report, the Mayor will certainly sign the ordinance. Though it has created much discussion, and for a time was the sole topic of conversation, the provisions of the ordinance are not severe, and practically class two of which are doing a joint order and shipping business, and the provisions of the ordinance, be compelled to pay double the license now required, and the local bars will be prohibited from soliciting business outside of the city. However, this class will not be stopped from supplying unsolicited orders to any point.

The ordinance calling for the issue of $40,000 in bonds for permanent street improvement, which suffered at the hands of the Street Committee to the tune of $20,000, was called and was passed by a vote of 8 to 3. Messrs. Moore, Patram and Chairman Perdue voting in the negative.

This measure was introduced in the Board by Mr. Hooker, and though it has passed through the hands of the Finance and Street Committees, it has not yet passed the Assembly. According to its friends, however, it will go through by a large majority.

The feature Saturday will be a lecture, entitled "Around Historic Boston," which will be no dance, as stated. The pupils of the school are showing a great deal of interest in the matter, and from past appearances quite a good sum will result from the exhibit, which will go towards purchasing art pictures, which will be hung on the walls of the school.
